

DeepSec 2017 thanks you and DeepSec 2018 is almost ready

Posted on November 22,2017 by lynx

We caught up on sleep and are right in the middle of post-processing DeepSec 2017. Thanks to you all for attending, presenting, sending feedback, and being part of a great event. The slides will be online soon. The videos are being converted. We will upload them as bandwidth permits. All speakers and attendees will get a code to access them early.

Thanks for your feedback as well! We listen, and we have some plans to address the issues you reported. 2018 will see a lot of improvements.

We will announce the dates for DeepSec and DeepINTEL 2018 soon. The events will stay in November and September. We just need to coordinate with the venue and will let you know as soon as possible. The Calls for Papers open early in 2018, as does the new ticket shop system.

Looking forward to see you (again) in 2018!
